

All Green Recycling announces the formation of All Green Global

All Green Global, a joint venture enterprise and co-owned by All Green Recycling ,LLC (a Women-owned Enterprise, WBE) and X10 Global LLC, (Formerly known as RedOrange LLC), a Service Disabled Veteran Company (SDVC)

SOMERSET, N.J., October 23, 2012 Business Wire—All Green Recycling, LLC (AGR), a growing provider of sustainable solutions and disposition for electronics (commonly known as “e-waste”) today announced the formation of All Green Global, LLC (AGG).

The new company, AGG, will focus on new and existing opportunities with global clients including US Government & Military agencies, Fortune 500 companies, the Aviation and Construction sectors, and developing countries who are facing a wide range of environmental challenges without a well-defined e-waste management program.

X10 Global LLC is a privately owned supply chain management, logistics, and global procurement company. It is registered as a Service Disabled Veteran Company (SDVC) with the US Government & Military Agencies with associated Cage Code, DUNS and NAICS codes.

Peter Jegou, All Green Recycling CEO explains,

“This partnership expands our core competency. The formation of AGG is an important step in All Green’s mission to better serve its clients and become the industry leader in electronic waste management and other types of recoverable assets. Partnering with X10 Global enables us both to expand into new markets and broaden our services to our clients quickly and efficiently.”

“This is a very unique and exciting opportunity for us to leverage our global sourcing and logistics network along with our end-to-end supply chain management experience in bringing innovative and earth-conscious solutions for e-waste management,” says Sam Philip, President of X10 Global

“All Green Global brings proven optimal solutions and capabilities to immediately expand the types of electronic and waste management programs we currently offer our clients,”

“We look forward to having Sam and Mark bringing their green vision to our efforts and be part of our growing management team” added Peter Jegou.

About, X10 Global www.allgreenglobal.biz

X10 Global LLC formally known as RedOrange, LLC is owned by Mark Schaible, a retired USAF test pilot and businessman, and Sam Philip, a seasoned industrial engineer and supply chain management professional.

Also, an affiliate company of X10 Global is Global Commerce Solutions a TSA licensed indirect air carrier and freight forwarder. The company's headquarters is in Colorado Springs, CO, with additional offices in Tampa, FL and a distribution center in New Brunswick, NJ.

About All Green Recycling, LLC

AGR is a privately owned NJ based Women-Owned Business Enterprise (WBE) providing management, sales, marketing and logistics to the recycling industry.

The company works with commercial and industrial companies to provide secure asset recovery, reverse logistics and end of life management to a broad range of electronic and many other types of recoverable assets.

AGR is committed to being an all green company, helping its clients recycle or reuse their end-of-life electronics and other assets with a no landfill policy, thereby protecting the environment.

AGR's seasoned management team is committed to helping clients achieve their goal of totally safe and secure "All Green" recycling.

AGR is located in Somerset New Jersey, just off interstate 287. Our sales and marketing offices are situated alongside our strategic partner in a 55,000 sq. ft., R-2 certified recycling facility and is also ISO 14001 certified. An additional 25,000 square feet of space is available onsite for storage and/or staging.

For more information contact Peter J Jegou, CEO All Green at 732-564-3090.

email: pjegou@agreenrecyclingcompany.com

<http://www.agreenrecyclingcompany.com/>
www.allgreenglobal.biz